

PORTABLE SCREEN DIMENSIONS

The NOBO floorstanding screen is a versatile, ergonomic, lightweight and robust projection screen that is the ideal companion product for the mobile presenter or the office presenter with limited space available to use and store larger or more permanent screen types. Available with video format (4:3) matt white projection screen surface, the new generation Nobo floorstanding screen is perfect for use with today's multimedia projectors.

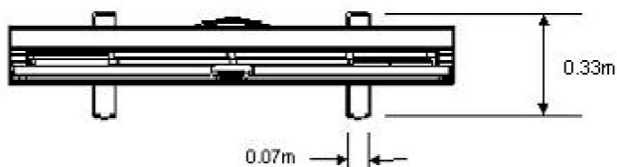

Utilising the latest in power assisting technology, the Nobo floorstanding screen delivers precise effortless screen height adjustment control and takes just a matter of seconds to set up. The unique multi-point screen support mechanism and friction based knuckle system combine to ensure superior strength and stability. The ergonomically styled aluminium alloy case, the comfort-grip handle features and the independent locking swivel feet further underline the principal aim of offering an intuitive, robust, user-friendly solution that affords the user maximum lifetime performance, reliability and control.
